Christopher Brown Needs Our Help

By Brenda Smith

Clasie Harbor and Christine Smith had their prayers answered July 17, 1991. Christopher Brown was transported via ambulance from Loma Linda Medical Center back to his home in Moreno Valley. Christopher ten months ago was an over active nine year old, who had an accident while playing with a rope. The rope caught around his neck and caused considerable brain damage, leaving him with an artificial airway. He requires total nursing care, which at this time is provided by his grandmother, Clasie.

His routine includes continuous medications, treatments, suctioning his airway, range of motion exercises to all extremities, liquid feedings through a tube in his stomach, and repositioning every 2 hours.

Right now, Clasie receives 27 hours a month for nursing care from the In Home Support Agency. She uses these hours only to run very necessary errands. On one occasion she used just four hours. The agency nurse arrived. Clasie used one hour to make sure her relief was comfortable with Chris, then she went on her way to her own medical appointment. "When I got to Kaiser, I almost cried because the doctor couldn't see me after all I went through, but I waited and they finally let me see another doctor. I got home just in time for the nurse to leave."

When was the last time Clasie slept all night? "I really can't remember. See I've been working the night shift on my job for a long time. I would come home and get four or five hours of sleep and when I could get a ride, I would go and help take care of Chris in the hospital. So I am used to being up all night. I sit by his bed at night and sometimes I fall asleep but I make sure Chris is turned every two hours so he won't get skin breakdowns and pneumonia."

One day since Chris has been home, Clasie answered the phone which is constantly ringing. The unidentified caller said,

"I hope you don't have a nervous breakdown." Then hung up. Clasie said that won't happen because she doesn't have time.

Christine, Chris's mother, says, "My mother has been on her feet since Chris came from Loma Linda. I'm scared something is going to happen to her. Sometimes we kneel on the floor to save our legs and do some of his care."

If Christine and Clasie had adequate nursing relief, maybe could take turns sleeping. Christine is at her son's bedside constantly, but she has her restricting medical conditions to contend with. She dropped out of a daytime training program when Chris had his accident. She's afraid to leave her mother alone with Chris, and she's learning his routine, but since Loma Linda restricted her visits to fifteen minutes when her son was hospitalized, she did not complete the necessary training to properly handle his medications and suctioning routine. Christine is concerned about Clasie and Chris. Clasie is worried about Christine and her grandson, Chris. Is it all worth it? When Chris smiles, they both say yes.

Clasie no longer receives her salary from her employer. She had no medical benefits, vacation time or accrued sick leave. Her two story home is listed for sale to keep from losing it through foreclosure. This family needs a specially equipped van to transport Chris back and forth to his Attention Advertisers And Readers!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

There are two Cheryl Browns in the newspaper business in our area. One is employed by Westside Story, a weekly community newspaper in San Bernardino and I am the other. I am the owner and co-publisher of Black Voice News in Riverside.

We have received many complaints that advertisers and readers, are responding mistakenly to the Westside Story's Cheryl Brown.

The latest incident involved confusion over the Cal Tex

I am on record, please find out which Cheryl Brown you are talking to before dealing with anyone.

I have been in San Bernardino/Riverside for over 30 years. My full name is Cheryl R. Minter Brown.

Kidnapping Subject Wanted For Questioning

Detectives have now classified the disappearance of Alicia Armstrong as a kidnapping and have appointed a task force to investigate the matter.

The task force is comprised of 12 officers and detectives who will be working from 8 a.m. to midnight every day. Their primary goal will be to follow-up and categorize information that is being phoned in by the public.

Citizens who are reporting immediate sightings of Alicia are asked to record as much descriptive information about the person or persons she is with and the vehicle or vehicles (including license plate numbers) she is in or near.

Alicia Armstrong is described as Black, about 3 feet tall, 40 pounds, with dark brown hair and dark brown eyes. She was last seen wearing a bright pink tank top and short set and white sandals.

The suspect is described as a Hispanic male in his mid 30's, 6 feet, 160 pounds, thin build, dark complexion having dark brown, curly hair, collar-length.

Anyone with information about the child is asked to call the San Bernardino Police Department at (714)383-5311.

99.1 Moves To Iowa?

Last week, 99.1 KGGI moved to Iowa Ave. in Riverside from their San Bernardino location.

The staff of the station announced the move to Iowa (assumably the state). Many callers phoned the station upset with the management. On the station's morning show with Deaner and Daniels the station manager came on the air to answer questions about the move. Listeners cried out their hearts to him.

Steve Virissemio, explained to the callers that they were not moving to Iowa Street in Riverside or in the high desert. Virissemio never told and

On Saturday evening August 3, 1991, cheers and applause will emanate from the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles.

California as "A Midsummer Night's Magic" unveils. Hosted by everyone's MVP, popular Laker, Earvin "Magic" Johnson, "A Midsummer Night's Magic" stars his friends who happen to be the world's best basketball players. Each one of them is to be commended because they demonstrate their commitment to be involved and help raise needed dollars for the United Negro College Fund.

In five short years, the UNCF benefit weekend has quickly become a tradition and is acknowledged as one of America's premiere summer galas. The professionally executed extravaganza is also the most entertaining. In fact, Grammy Award-winning Stephanie Mills will be the star entertainment at the sixth annual "A Midsummer Night's Magic" banquet benefitting the United Negro College Fund.

Stephanie's release of the album "Home" in 1989 produced two #1 hits - the title track, "Home," originally performed by Stephanie as the final song in her first great triumph, Broadway's theater smash, The Wiz, and "Comfort of A Man," achieving for Ms. Mills yet another solid gold smash hit.

Prior to this, air play on "If I Were Your Woman," "Puttin' a Rush On Me," "I Feel Good All Over" and "Secret Lady" propelled her 1987 album "If I Were Your Woman" to platinum status, and served as the launching ground of her "sold out" concert tour season.

The festivities begin Saturday evening, August 3rd at 5:00 p.m. with the fabulous Silent Auction Reception, co-chaired by Alonzo and Teresa Walleit. Immediately following the Silent Auction is a black-tie dinner extravaganza at 7:30 p.m.

dinner guests will then have the opportunity to meet and greet the dynamic All-Star players. They will also applaud the contributions of Dr. Jerry Buss, president of California sports and owner of the Los Angeles Lakers. He is the 1991 recipient of the prestigious Frederick D. Patterson Award. Dr. Patterson founded UNCF in 1944. Grammy award winner, Stephanie Mills, will perform and Jim Hill, sports anchor of KABC-TV will once again guide the evening as the Master of Ceremony.

That isn't all on Sunday, August 4th, the grand finale

All-Star basketball game will be held at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, California. Magic will present his superstar friends once again who will participate in a fast paced game that always delights their fans. In previous years, Magic has also presented a spectacular slam-dunk contest at the conclusion of the game and high stepping bands from UNCF colleges have performed at half-time.

The players contributing their time and great talents this year include; Michael Adams, Mark Aguirre, Charles Barkley, Dee Brown, Derek Coleman, Rex Chapman, Michael Cooper, Tim Hardaway, Ron Harper, Earvin Johnson, Kevin Johnson, Michael Jordan Reggie Miller, Chris Mullin, Pooh Richardson, Spud Webb, Dominique Wilkins, and Herb Williams. According to Vince Bryson, the UNCF development director who so capably spearheads all of the activities, "UNCF is grateful to the major sponsors, organizations, institutions, businesses and individuals for their dedication and shared resources which make "A Midsummer Nights' Magic" so

Hardy Brown II To Speak At Midsummer Night

Hardy Brown Jr. was nominated by the United Negro College Fund (UNCF) to be this year's spokesmen at the Magic of Midsummer Night Classic on August 3rd and 4th 1991 in Los Angeles, California.

Brown, the son of co-publishers Cheryl and Hardy Brown of the Black Voice Newspaper, attends Wilberforce University in Ohio.

He was selected as one of five African American students that attend Black universities throughout the country. "I was selected to give my speech concerning my experiences going to Deaner and Daniels were so upset they walked out, then all the disk jockeys walked out and the station was run by inexperienced personnel all day.

While they ran the station, disk jockeys helped to facilitate the move.

Brown said that was one of the reasons he chose to go to the institution after he graduated from San Bernardino High School two years ago. The other reason was because it was small. "I have a better chance to study and more of a one on one with professors." He is presently getting ready to begin his junior year as a marketing and advertising major.

In looking to the future Brown said he would like to go into his own business someday. "I'd like to own my own radio station and advertising agency."

He said he hopes to go to New York, the place that's tops in advertising, to work in the field someday.

Brown was chosen out of the five candidates who won to give his speech on Saturday. He will also attend the all star celebrity basketball game on Sunday. "I'm very excited," he said.

When asked what he would say to other Black youth concerning education at a Black college, Brown said, "It's an experience they'll never forget. I encourage other Black youth to attend Black colleges."

E. V. McIntosh Succumbs

"Mr. McIntosh," a near 50 year resident of San Bernardino, died following several strokes and a complication from other illness, on July 20, 1991.

"Mr. Mac", as he was affectionately called, was a loyal active member of New Hope Baptist Church and a role model, especially for young adult Black males.

He was active for many years in the San Bernardino Chapter of the NAACP, a past master of Prince Hall Mason Lodge #17, president of the Homeowners of 20th Street, and the first Black to serve on the city Fire Commission.

He was no stranger to city hall and was consulted regularly by elected officials and community leaders.

Many remember him as the security guard at the Sun Telegram newspaper, now the

Self-Proclaimed Black Leader Now Wants To Claim Self-Help

By Tony Brown

When I was growing up, one lesson learned was not to let your mouth get other parts of your anatomy in trouble. If you promised to whip another guy, you had better deliver or your credibility would be severely diminished or totally lost. An assortment of Black leaders and intellectuals impulsively tore into Clarence Thomas when they heard that an outsider may become the most powerful Black in America, the way they are accustomed to ripping apart anyone who differs with their often self-serving agenda. In the case of the premier Black leader, Jesse Jackson, it is usually self-serving. But in the case of Clarence Thomas' nomination to the U. S. Supreme Court,

Jackson and Black America's royal court, the Congressional Black (Democratic) Caucus, were in for a surprise. Blindly charging up a hill, they looked ahead to find 57% of Blacks, according to CNN, opposing them in support of Thomas. That led to more blind rage and denial — denial that the majority of Blacks are in favor of the Thomas nomination. In the Thomas affair, Jackson has demonstrated a classic demagoguery. After immediately pouncing on Thomas' alleged lack of Blackness and failure to find virtue in virtuous Black leaders, Jackson, an avid poll watcher, started watching the polls so he could adjust his philosophy to catch up with his followers. For example, at the opening of his national PUSH convention in Indianapolis, he savaged Thomas. That was on Wednesday, July 17th. The very next day, Thursday, there was a new Jackson. In a speedy attempt at recovery, the preacher-politician back-peddled awkwardly to catch up with the majority of Blacks who favor the Thomas nomination. "During an interview Thursday at The Indianapolis Star offices, Rev. Jackson tempered his remarks about Thomas' nomination that dominated newspaper and television coverage of his speech Wednesday," The Star revealed. What the Star did not report was that during his "visit" to its office, he was livid because the paper focused on his crusade against Thomas and not on his newly rediscovered economic development theme. The Black leader of government as provider of first and last resort, with a few corporate "boycotts" thrown in for dramatic effect, now seems to want to lead the self-help movement, while denouncing Black self-help leaders as conservative traitors to the civil rights movement.

"We do not have the luxury of just espousing a plan for racial injustice outside a context of economic growth," Jackson repeated in Indianapolis, taken from his address to the NAACP the week before in Houston. He read the polls. Self-help was in. Opposing Thomas was out. Jackson wanted in. "His nomination must be kept in context," Jackson said Thursday. He went on to explain, for the first time rationally, that Thomas' vote, like Thurgood Marshall's, wouldn't deter an already conservative Supreme Court from its agenda. "Clarence Thomas is not central to a new court," he said. Jackson knew that the day before or the Saturday before in Dallas or the week before in Houston when he attacked Thomas' personal and professional motives. But the truth was not expedient until Thursday in Indianapolis.

On Friday in a front-page story by James Patterson, I was quoted in the Star, along with a number of other Blacks at the Indiana Black Expo, as supporting the Thomas nomination and opposing Jackson and the Congressional Black Caucus. "Brown's comments were echoed by others attending Black Expo."

The Star story ended: "PUSH members Arfennie Cook of Union Springs, Ala. and Millie Jefferson of Chicago would like to see Thomas confirmed." It appears that Jackson is not in touch with his own organization, not to speak of 30 million Blacks. But now that he knows that Thomas' philosophy of self-help is so popular, you can look forward to more self-help messages from the self-proclaimed leader of Black America. TONY BROWN'S JOURNAL TV series can be seen on public television in Los Angeles on Channel 28 (KCET). Please consult TV listing or phone station for air time.

Letter Editor

Dear Editor,

Public schools in America are in a mess. Crime against person and property; defiance of authority; use of filthy language; lack of discipline; low academic achievement and self-esteem; racially motivated incidents; sale and use of illicit drugs; sex on the premises; and teenage pregnancies are some of the better-known problems which afflict schools especially those located in the inner cities.

Devising new programs and/or throwing money at these and other problems without addressing the underlying reasons may succeed for a while, but is/are guaranteed to fail in the long-run. Urgent remedial action is required.

Research shows that when inner-city children attend parochial or private schools, they tend to be at or near the national norm in every respect and far ahead of their counter-parts in public schools. This, it is safe to conclude that such schools are doing something right.

I believe strongly that the establishment of a network of independent Christian schools for children of the inner-cities of America, is the only antidote to the sub-standard schooling far to many of them receive. These schools would be geared to the large number of African-American children resident in such communities, but definitely would not in any way exclude anyone who is from another ethnic group.

In these proposed Christian schools, moral values would be emphasized. In an affirming, encouraging and loving manner, each student would be taught that he/she is made in the image of God, therefore achievement of excellence, would also be a feature. High expectations of success would be held for every student. Foolish behavior, laziness or lackadaisical attitudes would not be tolerated in the least.

Adherence to a dress code - sorely lacking in most public schools - would be required of all students as well as teachers and administrators. When a person is neatly turned out, he/she feels good about it. And when one feels good about some aspect of oneself, performances usually improve. Furthermore, having a dress-code helps to promote discipline, pride, self-esteem, and a feeling of belonging.

A few have told me that this idea is an excellent one but will require huge sums of money to implement. Perhaps. But doubting Thomases may be assured that if the Almighty backs someone embarked on a project, success will come. And who can really challenge the assertion that all children require a quality education to have a chance at making something of their lives later on?

To all serious-minded people interested in exploring the aforementioned idea, an invitation is extended. Contact me in order that we may plan strategy sessions. Join with other like-minded people who wish to work together to provide parental choice and bring positive changes in education all across America. Clowns, jokers, and/or self-promoting individuals ought to seek another forum to do their thing.

New UNCF President To Take Over September 1

The United Negro College Fund elected U.S. Representative William H. Gray 3d, House Majority Whip (D-PA), as its president, effective September first. He succeeds Christopher F. Edley, who retired in January, following 17 years of service.

The announcement was made by Joseph D. Williams, Chairman of the UNCF Board of Directors. Mr. Williams, who is also Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Warner-Lambert Company, said the election was the result of a nation-wide executive search to identify an individual whose outstanding personal credentials matched those of the organization.

"In Bill Gray we've found such a person," Mr. Williams said. "The same leadership characteristics that served him so well in building consensus and coalitions in the Congress, will be of great value to the UNCF. He'll be a major force in furthering the critical role of our traditionally Black college and universities.

"Dr. Oswald P. Bronson Sr., President of Bethune-Cookman College and Chairman of the UNCF's Presidents Council said, "Bill Gray is the ideal leader to help Black education meet the urgent challenges as we move toward the 21st century."

Mr. Gray, 49, served the Philadelphia area in Congress for a dozen years, and is the third highest ranking Democrat in the House. He previously served as chairman of the Budget Committee, chairman of the House Democratic Caucus and as a member of the Appropriations Committee.

In addition to his political career, Mr. Gray has served since 1972 as senior minister of the Bright Hope Baptist Church in Philadelphia, where his father and grandfather served before him.

Mr. Gray's educational background includes a dozen years as an assistant professor and lecturer at St. Peter's College, Jersey City State College, Rutgers University and Montclair State College.

The largest Black fund-raising organization in the United States, the United Negro College Fund provides support for 41 private, historically Black colleges and universities. Since its funding in 1944, UNCF has raised more than $500 million for Black higher education. The organization, presently engaged in a $250 million capital campaign, is known by its motto, "A mind is a terrible thing to waste."

William Herbert Gray III was born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on August 20, 1941, but was raised in Philadelphia. He received a bachelor's degree from Franklin & Marshall College in 1963, a master's in divinity from Drew Theological Seminary in 1966 and a master's in Theology from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1970. He is married to the former Andrea Dash, and they have

Support American Inventors

Controversial Stephen Paul Gnass, creator of the Invention Convention and long-time champion of the independent inventor, will address the critical issue of why America's inventors must be taken more seriously if the U.S. wants to remain one of the world's economic powers beyond the year 2000.

He will also reveal:

A. How other countries have been gaining the economic edge because they encourage innovation in their education systems, they subsidize their inventors; and they give special tax benefits whereas in the U.S. we give our inventors nothing but headaches and red tapes.

B. How the little-known "Harmonization Law" that is quietly moving through the legislative pipeline will benefit corporations and will cripple the guy in the garage with his dream.

"We must shed ourselves of this notion of the inventor-as-an-eccentric-Rube Goldberg," states Gnass. "We have heroes in sports, in acting, in space, even in the corporate world. Why don't we treat our inventors as heroes of our economic future? They are the driving forces that will create the new products, the new profits, the new jobs. Without them, frankly, I believe we could lose our economic leadership by the year 2000."

Boxing Returns To S.B.

By Freddy Curlin

Professional boxing returned to San Bernardino with a roar last evening, as World Class Promotions put on its first event at Fiscalini Field, before a crowd of 1,934 fans.

The show consisted of a ten round main event, which saw Olympic Gold Medalist, Paul Gonzales make his successful comeback bid, via decision over Abner Barajas of Phoenix. A co-feature ten round, Jr. Lightweight bout between Edward "Pee Wee" Parker of Westminster and Harold Warren of Corpus Cristi, Texas, brought the house down, as the fighters displayed an amazing ability to trade, block and slip punches throughout. Harold Warren, the underdog, won the decision by majority vote.

Dr. Freddy Curlin, promoter of the event has stated that World Class Promotions expects to return in September to Fiscalini Field, with its 2nd presentation of professional boxing in its ongoing series.

The keynote motivational speech was delivered by a former GAIN student who is graduating from San Bernardino Valley College with honors and a certificate in computer science.

As proud families and supporters watched, in addition to PAL Center completions honors, special awards from Assemblyman Jerry Eaves, of the 66th Assembly District, were given each graduate in recognition of the graduates' of uric acid in the body. Gout is often hereditary and the chances are that you received this tendency from a parent.

Uric acid is the substance that normally circulates in the blood until it is passed through the kidneys into the urine. In gout, uric acid builds up either because the body produces too much of the substance or because the kidneys cannot process and remove it properly.

An attack of gout occurs when crystals of uric acid precipitate in joint fluid and irritate the joint lining, causing it to become inflamed. Gout usually affects the large joint of the big toe, although any joint can be involved. Over a period of time, repeated attacks of gout can cause permanent joint damage.

Gouty arthritis does not itself cause death, but the uric acid crystals can sometimes settle in the kidneys and produce serious kidney damage which can, on rare occasions, be fatal.

The PAL Center's Project Earn and Learn, in it's fifth year of providing summer youth employment, is one of ten programs operated at the PAL Center during the 1990-91 academic year. Some of the programs and related demographic data include:

Operation RETAIN, funded by the San Bernardino County Private Industry Council (PIC), provides academic tutoring, computer training, GED preparation, English-as-a-Second Language, counseling, and pre-employment skill training to 14-21 year old youth.

Project Early Outreach, funded by McDonnell Douglas, is a Saturday morning tutorial program for elementary school children, grades one through six.

Teens for Responsible Behavior, funded by the California State Department of Education (CSDE), stresses pregnancy prevention and parenting responsibilities. RETAIN II, funded by the CSDE, computer word-processing, data-entry, GED preparation and academic remediation was provided forty-five 16-45 year olds.

Substance Abuse and Gang Intervention, funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, features the traveling Substance Abuse Mobile (SAM). Seventy-six thousand persons personally observed the display aboard SAM II, with television coverage reaching thousands of additional viewers.

Self-Destruct, an anti-gang, and drug video, and the anti-drug comic book Might Medic were funded by the U.S., Department of Education, and distributed free of charge.

Operation RECLAIM is the previously mentioned GAIN reform program. Alternative Street Academy was a dropout-prevention program for suspended and expulsion-revoked students of the San Bernardino City Unified School District. This program which generated Average Daily Attendance funds for the district, was attended by 89 students.

According to Dr. Mildred Henry, PAL Center Director, a child care program is scheduled to begin in Fall 1991 which will add a greater dimension to community services currently offered. Information about the PAL Center and its services may be obtained by calling (714)887-7002.

QUESTION: Why do we have more foodborne illnesses (food poisoning) during the summer?

ANSWER: As the heat esca-lates during the summer, we need to be more careful with food handling, because foodborne illnesses increase. Mary Parnley, of the USDA Food Safety and Inspection Service, says "the increases in foodborne illnesses are attributed to the bacteria present throughout the environment in soil, air, water and in the bodies of people." Most foodborne bacteria grow faster at temperatures from 90° to 110° F. Bacteria need moisture to flourish and summer weather is often humid. Secondly, there are "people" causes. In the summer, more people are cooking outdoors, and have picnics and cookouts without refrigeration, washing facilities, and the cooking controls of a kitchen. You can protect yourself from foodborne illnesses by following these basic steps. • Do not drink raw milk or untreated water. Do not eat raw shellfish.

• Buy food in undamaged containers. Refrigerate perishables immediately. • Avoid cross-contamination. • Cook red meat, poultry, fish and eggs thoroughly.

• Do not use foods with mold. For further information on food safety, contact your local Cooperative Extension Home Economist or the USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline 1-800-535-4555.

Education And Business

(LOS ANGELES—June 18)—Twenty-three Southern California college students received scholarships of $2,000 or more during the Golden State Minority Foundation's "17th Annual Salute to Education" fund raising dinner recently. The Museum of Flying in Santa Monica, CA, served as an excellent backdrop for the more than 500 community and business leaders, students and family members in attendance. The evening's program included brief remarks from Dinner Chairman John E. Byrson, chairman and CEO of Southern California Edison Company; and Honorary Chairpersons Norm Nixon and Debbie Allen. Antonio Fargas, noted actor, served as master of ceremonies.

Willie D. Davis, president and owner of All Pro Broadcasting, Inc., delivered a moving keynote address on the strategy for his successful career. Foundation Chairman Dr. Francis A. Kornegay presented Davis with the organization's coveted "Medal of Excellence" for his leadership and accomplishments as a business professional. All scholarships presented that evening were sponsored by corporations and individuals who support the efforts of the Foundation. This year, the KCBS-TV recipient received a $4,000 scholarship award. The 17 year-old Foundation, founded by the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, provides financial assistance to minorities pursuing degrees in business administration and life insurance. The Foundation also administers other specialized grants sponsored by corporations and individuals and supports educationally based programs in the San Francisco/Oakland area, Detroit and Los Angeles. All contributions received during its fund raising activities are used for scholarships and programs. The cost of operating the Foundation is paid by Golden State Mutual Life, the nation's third largest black-owned and operated insurance company in the country.

New Joy Baptist Church Celebrated Women's Day

By Verlie Thomas

A captivating spirit of enthusiasm was kindled among the women of New Joy as they observed their second Women's Day celebration last week.

Their day began with Sunday School at 9:15 a.m. with a Mass Women's Bible Class taught by Mrs. Johnnie James, of St. John Baptist Church in Riverside. The lesson subject was "The Wall Is Finished, NEH. 6:1-16"

There were classes for the men and youth as usual.

Superintendent Josephine Hardin emphasized the fact that Sunday School is vital to every Christian's spiritual growth.

The day's theme was "Women of Determination, Courage, and Strengthen Stirred Up to Build the Church of God." Indeed, the church was excited and encouraged to build up for Jesus.

At the 10:15 a.m. worship service, the widely known singer and dynamic gospel pastor of Santa Ana's St. James Baptist Church, Rev. Richard Kessee, Jr., served as the guest speaker. Guest soloist for the morning was Elizabeth Woodard, of Loveland Church.

A women's mass choir under the capable direction of Patricia Singleton, pianist of New Joy presented special music for the occasion. Their day was blessed and New Joy was greatly honored by the presence of Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Munford of Philadelphia, PA. Proud parents of our pastor, the Rev. Paul Stanley Munford. Praise the Lord. The celebration will close at the 4 p.m. service with Mrs. Phalia Louder of New Jerusalem Foursquare Church, Riverside as principal speaker. Women of New Joy will present a skit titled, "The Potter's house," narrator, Mary Norwood.

The services were held at the S.D.A. church, 4491 Kansas Ave. in Riverside (on the corner of Kansas and Pennsylvania Avenues).

RELIGIOUS BRIEFS

ST. JAMES DISTRICT HOLDS 23RD ANNUAL HOLY CONVOCATION

"How to Achieve New Successful Beginnings" is the theme of St. James' 23rd Annual Holy Convocation held at Banning's Calvary Church of God in Christ. Carlton Anderson is the superintendent of this district that included guest speakers: Dr. E. McGee of Bakersfield, Dr. F. Knight of Riverside, Dr. R. Anderson of Compton and Bishop C.E. Simmons of Indio.

The convocation ends Sunday with a 3 p.m. service at Calvary Church of God in Christ, 1415 Ramsey Street in Banning.

The community is invited to come out and fellowship and listen to the spoken word of God's anointed ones.

May brotherly and sisterly love continue in Christ Jesus.

OPERATION SALVATION

"Gods People Moving In The Spirit" will be held August 16 at Now Faith Deliverance Ministry, 1704 W. Highland in San Bernardino at 7:30 p.m.

The Inland Empire ministry leadership will come together for a time of prayer, praise and planning. The night will include an "Eleventh Hour" message by Pastor Percy Harper of St. Mark M.B.C.

All pastors and ministers of the gospel are asked to attend this time of revival.

DELIVERANCE

The Community Baptist Church of Redlands, celebrates their Second Anniversary celebration of the Drug and Alcohol Restoration Saturday, August 17, at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speakers will include the Dynamic Evangelist, Teacher Elder Gregg Williams, and the San Francisco Bay Area Ministry Team who will render testimonies of True Deliverance. A special praise service calling on God to send down his power to break the yokes of bondage will be something you don't want to miss. Community Missionary Baptist Church is located at 939 Clay St., in Redlands.

needs a specially equipped van to transport Chris back and forth to his appointments. They don't even have a car. Christine is legally blind and can't drive anyway, but Clasic can and would have a lot more time to care for Chris if she didn't have to depend on others for transportation.

The Eagle Taxi company of Moreno Valley has agreed to give Clasic and Christine priority transportation to emergency facilities on a credit basis.

Government funds are very slow and Medi-Cal Insurance does not cover some of Chris's badly needed medical supplies. The 'frost free' refrigerator needs replacing. The top freezer is caked with ice, but it works. The bottom area for regular foods does not.

Clasic and Christine appreciate all the support they get from the neighbors, friends and relatives, but it has been very hard on the people that knew Chris before his accident. People that knew him when he was an active fun loving kid. When he was able to put on boxing gloves and meet Mike Tyson in Lynwood, California.

The neighborhood boys and girls, Chris's former playmates, stopped in to visit and read to him once he came home. Sometimes they would stand in his room and cry. Now, they don't come inside. It is very hard for them to see him in the helpless state he's in. But they still come to the gate outside everyday and bring him a toy, a book, a daisy, or whatever they have. They always ask, "Is Chris better today?" Each time they hope for a new answer.

It's heartbreaking for these children to see him the way he is yet they can't stay away. What brings them back? Concern? Fear? Curiosity? Faith and hope. Those little children at the gate are doing their best to help. Can you help Christopher? QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

CAN WE STOP THE

INEVITABLE

QUESTION: Dear Dr. Woods, The Bible says to watch for the "end time" signs, such as wars and rumors of war; children turning against parents; earthquakes, homosexuality, etc. Knowing these things have to occur, when we pray and ask God for peace (obedient children, etc.) are we praying "against" what HAS to happen?

If God says these things have to happen and His Word is true, and He doesn't ever change, then should we just "thank God" that these things are happening, proving His word?

Confused, San Bernardino, CA

ANSWER: The question was asked by Jesus "Can ye not discern the signs of the times?" (Matthew 16:3) There are things that are going to happen in these end times whether (i.e., the return of Christ, the Battle of Armageddon, The Great Throne of Judgment). We can, however, have influence over our sphere of existence. The Bible call us "salt of the earth" (Matthew 5:13). Salt is a preservative that keeps certain foods from rotting. This world would be in worse condition if it were not for Christians praying and upholding the standard of righteousness. Can you imagine how our society would be if politicians voted as they wished without input from the Bible? Yet many would like to be cast out all Bible based morality and guidance. That's foolishness gone to seed!

You can be a light where you are. Light prevails over darkness. Your children can avoid the corruption of this world. Our country can be a God-fearing nation. Our children can be submissive and obedient. Our family members can avoid homosexuality. Yes, prayer still works. Godly living still works. Don't ever let the devil tell you that your Christian faith is powerless. The Bible still says "Greater is He that is in us than he that is in the world" (1st John 4:4).

If you have a question that you would like answered; write: Dr. Reginald Woods, Life Changing Ministries, P.O. Box 9778, San Bernardino, CA 92427-9778.

Moreno Valley News

Moreno Valley News
by Charles Ledbetter

THE BIG LIE TECHNIQUE: This is a technique being used by some groups or individuals that leaves much to be desired. This type of person is usually one that has given very little to life, however seek to receive a lot with very little effort just a few well placed lies. It could be a person attempting to establish themselves on the back of other individuals or a organization. The person doing this usually has little or no confidence in themselves, primarily because at no time in their life have they been satisfied with with "Self".

They use the "Big Lie" to hurt others and to tear organizations apart. Following is an example of the "Big Lie Technique". Someone told Mrs. Lofton this, "Students with an 'A' G.P.A. is not encouraged to ask questions in our school system, because by asking for information will reveal that the student does not in fact score such average. This is supposed to a resolution passed by the Moreno Valley School Board of Education, of which I am a member. Whoever is saying this does not seem to mind promoting lies. We will discuss this item in detail at the next school board meeting, why don't you attend.

A recording is made of each Board meeting, however it is said, if a person tells a big enough lie, often enough, someone will believe it. Teacher of psychology and human behavior call it "THE BIG LIE TECHNIQUE."

We will be back on track next week, a lot of wonderful things are happening in Moreno Valley, especially in the school system. I am going to let you know about it through this column and other means.

AUTO SERVICE WITH A SMILE: Those seeking a place in Perris where your car can received excellent service at "Dengate Auto Service" Dallas is an excellent mechanic. I couldn't get my smog checked properly at Dengate's and he sent me to "Dad's Auto Service & Repair who had the special machine required to complete the job properly. I met another delightful, gentle, sincere person who is also backing the Perris Education program for our children and the city. Dad gives teachers a discount. Either one of these men can take care of your car.

PROMOTE GOODNESS: Have plan for doing good for your fellowman, not to harm or attempt to hurt him. Take time and plan the many ways you wish to display show your love for others. We should seek more friends, we should keep our supporters by our actions so that they don't become enemies. We should share food and other blessings of our LORD's world and not allow starvation.

Men seek to maintain your family as a unit whose main purpose is to bring some nice healthy polite productive children into the world. Do not allow anyone to drive you away from your family. We must discover ways to share, care and love our families.

Our Lord Jesus Christ would like to see a program in operation that promotes good will among all people, especially families. I believe all people would like a life developed around "Goodwill and Honesty" regardless of race, religion or ethnic background.

CHARLES BARTON, TOP BASKETBALL COACH IN SWEDEN: I had the pleasure of a visit last weekend, Charles Barton, my nephew and his family. I had the pleasure of helping to raise him back in Columbus, Ohio in the (50) fifties. We all lived in the same house which his father, my brother-in-law owned. Charles was very young we left Columbus. I later heard he had a scholarship for Ohio State, and after an outstanding college career in sports especially basketball, he went Europe to play basketball. After a period of being very active on the courts, Charles was hired to coach profession basketball.

We enjoyed him, his wife, child and aunt Rubie who will stays with us for a while. We need a person like Charles in the Inland Empire. I'd like to see him at Perris or Moreno Valley.

Phyllis Hyman in The Prime Of Her Life

Prime of My Life is not only the title of Phyllis Hyman's new album for Philadelphia International Records, it's also an accurate description of what this formidable artist is experiencing these days, both personally and professionally.

On her first album in five years, the superb songstress—whose distinctive vocal style has helped her create a solid and loyal following among music lover worldwide—displays the kind of musical maturity and growth that comes for her close to 15 years as a successful recording artist.

"I'd say this record really stands up to and goes beyond the last album [1986's Living All Alone]," says Phyllis.

Phyllis Hyman

"It's much more well-rounded than some of my previous records. This album also represents the growth I've undergone not just as an artist but as a human being during the last few years. I feel that I'm more secure and more comfortable with myself now and I've learned to appreciate the physical, emotional and spiritual aspects to my voice in a way that I hadn't done in the past. I think you can hear that on this record."

With Philadelphia International Records completing its distribution pact with Zoo Entertainment at the end of 1990, Prime of My Life is fittingly the first album to be released through the new arrangement. "Yes, it's taken a while between records, but I'm aware that's made up of special people who have never stopped showing me their support and their love. Hopefully, they'll feel that it's been worth the wait."

In her recent concert at Los Angeles Wilton Theatre, Hyman entertained the crowd with a mixture of their past hits and current tunes. Her performance included several tunes from her new album, "Prime of My Life" and included a tribute to Duke Ellington (from her days with Sophisticated Ladies). Joining her in concert was Ronnie Laws, and the soulful Will Downing.

Winner of the Tomasine & Bushrod event, L. Coffee and S. Joubert.

Rodeo From B-1

Damon Walker, Ron W. Thompson, Oscar Harper and Weldon Forde, the Black Voice team.

Along with the colorful cowboys and girls was a host of celebrities from television, film, radio, and newspapers. The grand marshal of the event was television and movie personality Glynn Turman of "A Different World." Also on hand was Dawn Lewis of the same show and Paula Bonds, a reporter with Black entertainment Television (BET). Another celebrity was Art Evans from "Die Hard II" and Vanessa Bell Holloway from the movie "Coming to America."

Hosted by MC Ed White, the rodeo started off with two renditions of anthems (the National and African American) sung respectively by Maxine Weldon and recording artist Howard Johnson. Both competed to sing the best. The vote is still out on that one. They got the "woo woo" chant from the audience. Wranglers, Nabisco, Nestle, Salem Cigarettes, Family Savings Bank, and Pepsi Cola Company.

The first event of the rodeo was the calf roping event. Here, the cowboy must race a calf, catch him and tie three of his legs together with a rope. The calf must stay tied for six seconds. Don Stevens won this event with the best time. In a rodeo timing is everything.

The next event was are back riding (on a horse, that is) and it was won by Gary Richards who is also captain of the Rodeo Olympics Team. "Bull Doggin" in which the cowboy must throw a 300-500 pound steer over was an exciting event and was won by Don Stevens.

The cowgirls were not out done and had their own version of steer wrestling where the cowgirl has to mount a horse chase the bull down and grab the ribbon off its back. It's a lot harder than it sounds. Marilyn-Le Blanc made it look easy as they came away the winner with the best time.

The antic and comedy in the rodeo was provided by the rodeo clown Lynn park from South Dakota. Though he joked with the MC and clowned around with the cowboys and girls his job is quite serious. He's there to keep the cowboys from being hurt by the bucking broncos or an ornery bull. Park earned his pay Sunday. During the last event, the bull riding contest, when a cowboy was thrown from his horse, Park was trampled by a bull while trying to keep him from the cowboy. He suffered a severe laceration in his neck requiring 40 stitches. He was rushed to the hospital.

The Black Voice News staff also participated in putting the panties on the calf. participants included Oscar Harper, Ron Thompson and Damon Walker.

Another event sponsored by the Black Voice was the (Tomaine & Bush Rod Ribbon) and Rope contest. In this event the cowboy and girl work together. While the cowboy ropes the calf the cowgirl takes the ribbon off of it's tail. Lynn Coffee and Cherry Joubert were the winners.

Many friends and family of the Black Voice News came along to the rodeo and enjoyed the festivities. For many it was a first time seeing a rodeo.

Jeanie Williams of Stratton Park Community Center in Riverside said it was her first time. "My kids usually come but I'm glad I came. I liked it, I really liked it." Carmen Clement of San Bernardino came with her son and said, "I enjoyed it and would like to come again."

Willie Mae Armstrong said, "It was fantastic. I met cowboys and cowgirls. It was like going to the circus...all Black kids should see this."
